** By some accident, a passage in Art. VIII, commencing at the last line but three of page 191, has been transposed at the press. It should have been printed as follows:—"The improvement of Bean Creek has carried many a scrupulous senator into the outermost region of metaphysics, and over all the mazes of the social compact. The theory of state rights—in omne volubilis ævum—never begins this side the deluge, or stops short of doomsday."

And at page 211, line 10, for "aere" read "ære."
